MEDINA COUNTY BAR HOST TO BORDER DISTRICT BAR ASSOCIATION

The members of the Border District Bar Association held its regular quarterly meeting at Hondo on May 9th, which was well attended. Judge K. K. Woodley, President, presided at the meeting and introduced as special speakers, Judge Max Rogers of Huntsville, who spoke on the proposed reorganization of the Courts of Texas, and Judge Randolph Carter of San Antonio spoke on some phases of the new Rules of Civil Procedure in Texas. Both talks were very instructive.

The next quarterly meeting will be held in San Antonio on July 3rd, while the State Bar Meeting is being held. As special guests at the meeting Judges Edward W. Smith, W. O. Murray and James R. Norvell, the members of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals of San Antonio, attended, and the Hon. Wm. B. Carrsow, Secretary of the State Bar of Texas, also attended.

Following the business meeting the members and their guests enjoyed a barbecue at the Water Park in Hondo, as the guests of the members of the Medina County Bar. Judge W. O. Murray recited some of the now famous Judge Blivins stories to the great delight of all present.

STILL HOPEFUL OF A CORN CROP

The dry cold spring gave our corn a late start on most farms in Medina County, but Mr. Jacob Oefinger, who was a caller at this office Saturday, is still hopeful of a crop this year. Rains at the crucial moment will make corn over a long period of time, according to Mr. Oefinger.

He has made roasting ears in two months from corn planted after oats were harvested in June.

A most striking experience, however, was that of 1908. His corn crop was killed by a freeze on April 30th, when in an advanced state of growth. Following the freeze, he planted corn in each of the months of May, June and July and made fair corn from every planting. His last planting was on August 2nd that year, and when the first freeze of the fall came on October 25th it was far enough advanced in the roasting ear stage to be used as feed.

The conclusion to be drawn from Mr. Oefinger's experience would seem to be to go right on planting corn through May, June and July or until you have a crop in sight.

HARRY FILLEMAN APPOINTED POSTMASTER

After serving the Hondo postoffice as acting postmaster for a little over a year, Harry E. Filleman has received his commission as postmaster and will be sworn in on June 1st.

On March 1, 1941, he succeeded Dr. O. B. Taylor, resigned, as acting postmaster. Prior to that time, he was manager of a local service station. However, the duties assumed by Mr. Filleman are not wholly new to him. For over eight years he worked as postoffice clerk, serving under both the late Postmaster Alfred M. Finger and former Postmaster Lawrence Brucks, in Hondo. He has proved himself efficient and accommodating and has the confidence of the public whose patronage has greatly increased during the past few months.

Glenn Pope, who has been employed in the San Antonio postoffice, started in Monday at the Hondo office as temporary substitute clerk, under Civil Service.

HONDO OWLS INVITED TO DALLAS

DALLAS, May 6.—The fifth annual Texas High School baseball championship tournament will be held here May 21, 22 and 23 provided enough teams signify their intentions of entering. Athletic Director P. C. Cobb of the Dallas schools announced today.

The transportation shortage is the principal obstacle.

Cobb, who directs the tournament, has sent invitations to Beaumont, Austin, Hondo, Carthage, Lubbock and Fort Worth teams. The Dallas high school and Dallas Co. champions also are eligible to participate.

WORK MOVING FAST AT AIRFIELD

Despite unfavorable weather part of this week, construction at the airfield is moving rapidly. Freight is being unloaded every day at the local yards and on the field's triple line spur west of town, and what looks at a distance very much like another town is rising rapidly from the plain. There is much bustle and activity in the town with new people constantly coming in and housing facilities are taxed beyond capacity.

None of the managers want to be quoted on the probable completion of the work, but the original purpose was to finish by July 1st.

EXTREMELY LIGHT VOTE POLLED IN SELECTION OF CITY FATHERS.

Only 158 votes were cast in the election of officials for the recently incorporated city of Hondo, held Tuesday, May 12, at the courthouse in Hondo. The election was to select a Mayor, five Aldermen and a City Marshal.

The city fathers elected were chosen from a list suggested by the Board of Directors of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, although other names were written into the ticket. John A. Horger, with 143 votes to 14 votes of all his opponents combined, was elected Mayor of the City of Hondo. Others receiving from one to five votes for Mayor were L. F. Laake, R. L. Kollman, O. H. Miller, J. G. Barry, Geo. R. Carle O. A. Fly, D. H. Fly and R. C. Rath.

Five Aldermen selected are George R. Carle, Chas. J. Monkhouse, W. J. Nester, W. L. Windrow, and R. J. Reilly. Votes cast for Aldermen as printed on the ballot are as follows:

George Carle	79

Walter Bende, R. L. Kollman, W. F. Gaudin and O. B. Taylor.

John W. Martin was elected City Marshal with 141 votes, to 12 votes received by opponents whose names were written in on the ballot. They were V. P. King, Jack Fusselman Sr., Chas. Cannon, Homer Rothe, A. W. Hornung and C. J. Bless, with votes received from 1 to 3.

The officials selected are representative men of the town. Mayor Horger is a mortician and owner of Horger's funeral home in Hondo. George Carle is proprietor of Carle's Confectionery; Chas. J. Monkhouse is a retired grain and feed dealer, is a farmer and is also a member of the Medina County Rationing Board. W. J. Nester is a farmer and stockman and proprietor of Nester's Market. W. L. Windrow is a partner in Windrow Drug Store and is also a graduate pharmacist. R. J. Reilly is a member of the firm of the Hondo Lumber Company and is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Hondo Independent School District. All are home-owners in Hondo. John W. Martin is an experienced law enforcement officer, serving as a Deputy under the County Sheriff and employed by the people of Hondo as Night Watchman for several years.

As soon as the official vote is canvassed by the County Judge and certificates issued, the new city officials will enter upon their respective duties.

WOMAN SURRENDERS AFTER SHOOTING; RELEASED ON BOND.

Margaret Gray, 21, cafe employee, surrendered to Deputies Jack Fusselman and Frank Matthews, after shooting L. F. Wooten, carpenter employed at the new airfield here, at 1:45 p. m. Friday, May 8. The shooting took place on South Front street near the railroad park in Hondo. Wooten was hit twice, once in the left arm and once in the left side. He was treated at Medina Hospital and was able to be out the next day.

Following her surrender, the woman was placed in the county jail. On Saturday, May 9, a hearing was held in Justice Court and Judge H. V. Haass set her bond at $250.00. She was remanded to jail until Thursday morning, May 14, when she was released on bond secured by her father from Ballinger and an uncle from Paint Rock, Texas. She left with them but must appear later before the Grand Jury which meets in June.

Her home address was given as Brady. Wooten's home address was given as Mason, but he has been living at D'Hanis.

Russell Chisum appeared before Judge Haass in Justice Court Monday, May 11, and was fined $25.00 and costs of court for theft under $50.00. Unable to pay the fine and costs, Chisum was remanded to jail. He was charged with stealing a pair of pants, a shirt and several pairs of socks out of Raymond Bailey's car Saturday and then selling the stolen articles.

Several other minor violations were taken up in J. P. Court Monday and small fines levied.

CLINTON HARTUNG JOINS BASEBALL CLUB IN INDIANA

Clinton Hartung, Hondo High School Owls' sensational pitcher, left Thursday for Indianapolis, Indiana, to join the Minneapolis Millers, American Association baseball club. Clinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartung of Hondo, was signed in March by President Mike Kelley of the Millers, while the club was in training at New Braunfels. It was understood that he would not be farmed out but would stay with the Millers, which is a big jump from high school baseball.

Keen interest has been shown by several major league teams in Hartung, husky star of the Owls developed by Coach J. G. Barry. While Clinton joins his new team in Indiana, his former teammates, the Hondo Owls, will leave Wednesday of next week for Dallas to enter the State High School Baseball Tournament.

TAKING INSTRUCTOR'S COURSE AT UVALDE

Having completed both the standard first aid course and the advanced course, Mrs. Alfred A. Bader, Mrs. Ernest Brucks and Mrs. O. B. Taylor are eligible to take the lay instructor's course and for five nights this week are attending classes in Uvalde. A representative from the midwestern branch of the American Red Cross, St. Louis, is conducting the course and Red Cross chapters in nine counties in this area are represented. Following completion of the course, the Hondo representatives will be qualified to teach Red Cross first aid classes.

The standard classes being conducted in Hondo by Dr. W. B. Meyer and Mr. A. A. Stocker continue to meet every Tuesday evening with large enrollment. The advanced class, conducted by Mr. Alton Vordenbaum, completed its 10 hour training Tuesday night.

Mr. Stocker and Mr. Vordenbaum are with the State Highway Department at San Antonio.

THREE SCHOOLS ACCEPT STATE HIGH BASEBALL BIDS

Dallas, Texas, May 13.—Hondo, Carthage and the Fort Worth champion Monday notified Athletic Director P. C. Cobb that they have definitely accepted invitations to play in the annual state-wide high school baseball tournament here May 21 to 23.

The Fort Worth champion has not yet been decided, but according to a letter from Athletic Director Norman Earl, the pennant winner will be in Dallas for the playoff.

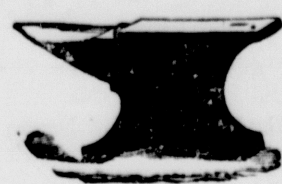

Acceptance of invitations also is expected from the Lubbock, Austin and Beaumont districts.

Adamson High qualified as the Dallas district entry by winning the city series last week. The eighth entry probably will be Mesquite from the Dallas County League.

FERD LOUIS ROTHE NAMED STUDENT COUNCIL HEAD

Ferd Louis Rothe, a junior from D'Hanis, Texas, was elected president of the student government at St. Mary's University, San Antonio in the annual election held Monday night. Ferd Louis, a commerce and finance major, will replace Kenneth Crosswell of Warren, Arkansas.

He is the fifth student president to be elected at St. Mary's. Ferd Louis is the son of County Judge Arthur H. Rothe.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I rummage around considerable in the papers and I see the same palaver taking place now, all over. It is giving the war a run for its money. We can get up a bigger sweat over nothing than any nation.

The furor is about "slacks". But the way folks snicker when a chunky mama breezes by in her seersuckers, is not being fair. When I can do so, I always put in an oar for the ladies. Instead of snickering and making jokes, we should feel sorry. Maybe mama has no mirror to her name. Think of it. No full-length mirror. We should give her the benefit of the doubt—and muffle our snicker.

"Slacks" is what they call 'em. That was the first mistake. That got people to wondering—and then talking. I have scanned no slacks yet that you could say were slack except it was maybe around the cuff. And cuffs will soon be taboo. And recent-like I saw an ensemble of slacks, high heels and an apron over all. It was quite novel.

But in due course grandma and the girls will get hep—and will again be as sweet as ever versus dolling up like the ice-man or the village blacksmith.

Yours with the low down,
JOE SERRA.

THEY HAVE BEEN CHOSEN

By vote of a small plurality of the qualified voters of the town at the municipal election last Tuesday, the job of pioneering in the setting up of municipal government for Hondo was wished off on seven of our citizens.

With the possible exception of the City Marshal-elect, not one of them sought the place to which he has been elected, and will accept the same purely as a civic duty that some one must perform for the good of our community.

It will be a pleasure to our people to know that the City Marshal's job will be held incidentally to his other duties and we are not to be deprived of the efficient and continued services of John W. Martin, as night watchman.

The Mayor and Aldermen elected are successful business men whose time is fully occupied; the meagre compensation the city can allow for their service can be no incentive to them for accepting the places, and the time devoted to the city's affairs will be at a financial loss to them.

In short, it will be their patriotic sacrifice for the good of the town.

In addition to the difficulties that accompany all pioneering, the body labors under the handicap of being without a man who has had actual experience in municipal government.

The lack of experience should be largely offset by the fact that for that very reason none of them are politicians, and they will bring to their task the training and the outlook of conservative, successful business men and not the outlook of politicians.

In view of all these facts—that they are of our choosing and not of their own scheming that their service is to be one of personal sacrifice to them; that their inexperience should impel cautious procedure and avoidance of mistakes; and that their standing in the community entitles them to our confidence—they should have the co-operation and support of all of us in the what is destined to be a difficult and trying task.

Let's not demand too much of them by way of early achievement.

Let's not insult their integrity by demanding or expecting special favors.

Let's hold up their hands in their every effort to serve the town's best interests as a whole.

Let's deal with them as a body with the same frankness and consideration that we wish to be dealt with by them, and so preserve a mutual confidence and respect that will preserve our town undivided and with a common purpose to promote the best interest of the whole town.

QUIHI NOTES

Then spake the chief butler unto Pharaoh, saying, I do remember my faults this day. Gen. 41:9.

"Two full years" are gone since the butler left the prison walls behind him and again enjoyed the confidence of his master and king, and reimbursed himself for the pecuniary losses incurred while condemned to enforced idleness. Crucial days drag long shadows, and these fall often athwart the ways of lusty days and invade fidgety dreams and occasional reveries. Is it possible that the butler was an exception, that he had totally forgotten the darkest days of his life, his prison-career? Is it possible that he had really forgotten the plaints and pleadings of Joseph when he bid him adieu at the prison-gate? Who could forget his tearful and trembling words, "But think or me when it shall be well with thee, and show kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Pharaoh, and bring me out of this house... I have done nothing that they should put me into this dungeon?"

Was that butler merely scatter-brained, having the new day wipe out the day past? Too haughty and dignified and blind for the wants of the little fellow? Too busy with his own affairs, living for his own interests exclusively, thinking himself the only captain running a vessel, the only engineer at a throttle, the only genius at the helm, the only bled on the planet? One of the many maniacs, monomaniacs, that see hear, think and passionately love themselves only? That gentry always has disgraced the earth.

Perhaps he doubted that record of Joseph as to his innocence. But few convicts admit their guilt. That old king found but one out of a thousand prisoners, who, with streaming tears, made a full confession. "Out with this guilty man from the midst of those 99 harmless fellows!" So said the king and pardoned the prisoner at once.

And even if Joseph did have a "clean bill of health," a record without a flaw, it was extremely risky to plead his case before Pharaoh. There were "higher ups" involved, a Mr. and Mrs. Potiphar. To clear Joseph was to expose and incriminate those two. Risky, very risky! Even then crown-witnesses and champions in the defense of "famous" criminals, were apt to disown overnight! It was unthinkable that the king should lend an ear when some adventurous crusader would try to pit the drop against the bucket, the mouse against the mountain, the pesky little Jew against the captain of his guard and his glamorous lady, Mrs. Potiphar, acme of beauty, truth and virtue (a lecherous, lying vixen to you!).

And, after all, dear butler, what has Joseph done for you? He did not clear your record, did not change the heart of the king in your favor, did not put you back on your former pay roll. He only did a little interpreting, a little prophesying, only gave you three days advance notice of what would have happened anyhow without his kindly words. So put your soul at ease and forget the incident! He does, and yet, dear sir, what about that God that stands behind Joseph, that made his happy message for you possible, that kept you from dangling on the same gallows with the chief baker, perhaps as innocent as you, that made you a stepping stone in the upward march of the lad in due time? Forget it, if you can!

Big Ben chimes while London sleeps. God has the hours strike at His own schedule, the surroundings often in midnight sleep. At his own time the waters lift the ark in the deluge, waving good-bye to a drowning, godless generation. The Sodomites awoken from their orgies when the flames crackle in the morning dawn. It takes an earthquake to rouse the Philippians and their dormant magistrates back to common sense and justice. A terrorized Jewry stands aghast when the walls of the Holy City are tottering and crumbling. And many a money-mad and power-drunken world sobered up when foundations rocked and ideals vanished. Different times, different chimes. God makes the clock strike at His bidding, at His time.

Here in Egypt the monarch is squirming under powerful dreams. His marionettes are in utter consternation, debanked with all their vain-glorious wisdom of interpretation. God's hour and God's way to make that indolent butler remember his "faults"; God's way to have that little forgotten prisoner be remembered by all the world and lift him to heights unheard of and undreamed of. And He still goes marching on!

On the sick list: Mrs. Rosa Boehle and Miss Emma Nietenhoefer; also the reporter has his honest share of "under the weather" conditions. May the Lord's good sunshine put them on their feet again before long.

And at the hospital we found a young mother fondling her firstborn, a strapping boy of nine pounds. Father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Saathoff, are in excellent condition and ready for your good wishes to join with ours.

A pretty Mother's Day program was put up by our League, well-suited to the morning service fairly attended, but still leaving room for many sons and daughters to give thanks for the priceless jewel that God has given them in their mother. And how those boys in the camps would have loved to be with us! Yea, mother looks still more lovable when far away. We were thinking of them and praying for their welfare. And here is the program as intended for June: Select readings, Elton Lindeburg, Henry Buss Jr., Miss Elsie Boehle, vocal selections, Mrs. Roy Bohlen, Mr. Oscar Grell, Mrs. Elmer Nietenhoefer, instrumental, Mrs. Alfred Saathoff. There is always room for volunteers and the friends that appreciate a pleasant and uplifting evening.

After a few days of sincere pleasure in the balmy southern skies (to them) and joined by nearly all their brothers and sisters within the state, our surprise visitors from Chicago, Ill., left us again to digest the various impressions up there in the windy city, where spring is still rather timid in making its entrance. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wecker were the visitors.

Announcements for services: May 14, Ascension day, German service at 11 (too late); May 17, the pastor expects to supply the pulpit at Hondo, at 11 A. M.; May 21, German service at New Fountain, 11 A. M.; May 31, English service at Quibi, 11 A. M. If you ever needed the Lord's light and comfort, it is during these turbulent days. Come, and be welcome!

SHALL WE INVITE OUR OWN SUBJUGATION?

The double column feature on this page is possibly the most widely printed editorial ever written in this country.

Certainly none other dealing with the present war situation has received such wide circulation.

We have had several requests to print it.

The reason for this wide-spread interest is not far to seek; in fact, it is obvious: It voices the feelings in the heart of every man, woman and child who has given a loved one to the armed forces of the nation; it voices the thought in the mind of every thinking individual in America who feels that the present war is a tragedy.

But feeling spent only in emotion is worse than wasted; thought translated into systematized, coordinated action is lost in inefficiency.

Let's examine some of the implications involved in this universal complaint; let's face the facts behind our present plight.

We hold no brief for organized labor on the one hand or organized management (capital, if you want to call it such) on the other hand; but we do hold a brief for the wisdom, common sense, and skill of the human mind, which is capable of understanding in a few weeks, months or even years the consequences of our blundering over the past two hundred years.

Because our ancestors took this country from its wilderness denizens with the rifles with which they were daily accustomed and upon which they often depended for their daily sustenance and here established their permanent abode; because they established the freedom of those homes with those same rifles on the bloody fields from Lexington and Concord to Yorktown; and because those same deadly rifles preserved and sustained that freedom at New Orleans, we have dreamed on for a hundred and fifty years in the boastful presumption that the same process could preserve us against all hazards.

We forgot the training and the skill that was behind the aiming of those rifles; we forgot that we were forgetting, because of changed environment, to maintain that skill in the succeeding generations; and we failed to appreciate the changes in the readiness of lethal weapons.

We shut our ears to the wise counsel of Arthur Brisbane when he warned us of the deadly potency of the airplane; we crucified General Mitchell for his insistence on developing it as an arm of our defense; we stultified ourselves in our sentiment at Lindbergh for warning of our now proven inadequacy, our weakness in the air.

Because a large standing army is repugnant to a free people, we refused to maintain such; but we forgot the fact that, for that very reason, some system of citizen-soldier training should have made a soldier out of every mother's son of so that the only preparation necessary for a war of defense would be the command to "Fall in; forward march!"

Some such system has prevailed in Switzerland for years—and she has never yet had a Pearl Harbor, though surrounded by war-like and warring neighbors.

Because of so great neglect, we are the penalty of unpreparedness! Armies, full panoplied in all the elements of modern warfare and armed in their use on land and on sea and in the air, are called from the plow by a cry of the night.

Rich in natural resources to such extent that our country should be produced at a cost that would undersold the world, sent our goods to every mart of the world, and the seven seas with our ships, we chose rather to grow soft and fat and let others take mastery of the ocean ways.

We were so blind as to enter into a part based on our agreement with proven treacherous people not to limit our ship-building, that actually destroyed ships already afloat.

Plunged suddenly into war with a people, a people who for years have drawn the principal part of their sustenance from the sea, we found ourselves without "enough ships" and supplies to our troops" at proposed outposts.

Our mistake, rooting back to the time when we chose to build a tariff around us rather than go out in world trade, cannot be undone.

It takes time to build ships that float—NOT SINK OR TURN—when they hit the water, it takes time to train land-lubbed into skilled sailors who can use them on their course.

These errors, appalling as they are, are in life and treasure as they are in their repairing, are still less and less difficult of rectification that of our dealing with the ownership of capital and labor.

And it was a short-sighted statesmanship that could not foresee as a consequence of the chartering of combinations of capital an outgrowth of class-consciousness with the constituent class conflicts.

Constituted, an employing class, with an interest in labor save the interest in their time and toil on the one hand, and, on the other, a laboring class, with no love for or interest in the enterprise that employed other than their pay check, and

LET ALL KEEP FAITH

—An Editorial in The Commercial Appeal, Memphis, Saturday morning, February 24, 1942.

The Commercial Appeal does not permit anyone who is not a member of the staff to write its editorials. There are many reasons for this rule, reasons too numerous to recount here. Today we suspend the rule to present as an editorial a letter from a member of the Arkansas Bar who served with the United States forces in the first World War. Any effort to interpolate or embellish would only serve to detract from the elements of sheer forcefulness that make it a document every thinking citizen of these United States should read and ponder. The letter follows:

"To The Commercial Appeal:

"My only son was born while I was in France during the first World War. Today he is a member of the United States Marine Corps. He sailed from California the first of January, and we have heard nothing from him since. We know he is somewhere in the Pacific. We are anxious about him. Thousands of other parents are like us.

"The President says we do not have enough ships to send supplies to our troops, and that we must build ships in a hurry. Even as he spoke several hundred shipbuilders refused to work on Washington's Birthday because they were not paid double time.

"How can fathers and mothers of boys who are in the danger zone and who are being called upon to sacrifice their lives feel any 'surge' of unity when the President and the Congress permit a bunch of shipbuilders and munitions workers to quit when they get good and ready?

"Do our boys at the front get 'overtime' and 'double time' in the fox holes of the Philippines? Do our sons who are giving their lives to protect the jobs of these and others like them quit on holidays? Like hell they do!

"One of my friends, who is a good mechanic, with a family to support, went to get a job in a munitions plant. Every day we hear on the radio and read in the newspapers that such men are needed to turn out munitions for our soldiers, sailors and marines. But this man was refused a job until he could get a union card. He could not get a union card because he did not have enough money to buy one.

"Is it the idea of our Government that it is more important to preserve labor unions than it is to preserve the American Union? Why can't a free-born American citizen get a job in a plant where the Government needs workers without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader?

"If our sons are to be drafted to give their lives for their country, why should not Labor and Capital be drafted to supply them with munitions of war? Why should Congress, which has the power to make laws, be so tender of the regard for laborers and management who work and prosper in safety while having an utter disregard for the lives of the boys at the front?

"We don't like it, and we don't mind saying so right out loud. Maybe it is time we were electing some senators and congressmen who will crack down and compel Capital and Labor to get into this war. And, come to think of it, this is election year, and we might as well get busy while we have the time and opportunity.

Helena, Ark.

"JOHN C. SHEFFIELD."

no hope of ever acquiring an interest in their employer's business and less of ever owning a business of their own, inevitably evolved from the system.

Wise statesmanship would have evolved some accompanying plan from the inception of the corporate system to have kept less of the ownership in the hands of idle capitalists and enabled the man who labored in them, both with brain and brawn, to acquire a personal pecuniary interest in the business of the enterprise at least to the extent that his interest in its larger success would equal his interest in his pay check.

The laborer given that opportunity and who would not strive for it isn't fit for a place in its personnel; a capitalist not willing that all should have such an incentive is a slave-driver at heart.

And so, with the seeds of error sown, the foul plant of class-consciousness sprang into growth.

Over the intervening years, it has produced and continues to produce an ever increasing crop of bitter fruits of class-conflicts.

Because of the kinship of human interest, the public's sympathy has been with the complaints of labor; but instead of going back and rectifying the basic error, as a self-governing people should, they (the public) have condoned labor in its ever increasing demands.

Politicians, (alas where are there any statesmen?) instead of devising means of a redress of grievances on the one hand or, on the other hand, showing labor the bounds beyond which it cannot rightfully go, have flattered them with demagogic appeals and bought their votes and support with concessions of favoritism beyond all measure or right or reason.

Any man has an inherent right to quit the job at which he is dissatisfied.

But what moral claim has a man to a job after he has voluntarily quit it?

None whatever!

How much less claim, then, can a bunch of strikers have to their's after, to the wrong of deserting their agreed task, they have added conspiracy in restraint of trade and injury to their employer?

Yet over the years, the public, you and I, have not only acquiesced in their unwarranted act but applauded their success at every strike won—and paid the price!

Paid the price, and more, for finding the public's sympathy where it is, and with only a profit-percentage interest in either labor or the public, capital long ago resorted to a mere face-saving objection to the strikers' demands, yielded and then passed the additional cost, plus the usual over-all percentage, on to the public, you and I.

And we have been content to ease our hurt by merely grumbling about the high cost of living!

Not content with inviting a disturbance of the peace by trying to coerce the employer by annoying him with a picket nuisance, the still further refinement of trespass has lately been borrowed from France—poor subjugated, decadent France—of sitting down on the job and refusing to move out so another can take it.

Thus after one after another "social gain", God save the mark, we see built up in our midst a Frankenstein that has the effrontery to demand—and get it—an extortionate membership fee in a Union before a free (?) American citizen can work even in a defense job designed to preserve the very life of the nation and preserve all of us and our posterity from subjugation to the yellow race.

In the presence of this imminent danger common to us all, their leaders are alleged to have threatened a general strike in all industry in retaliation for the passage by congress of any measure releasing the war effort from their strangle hold.

And Congressmen and limber-tailed executives are trembling, hesitating before this monster of their own coddling.

The very fact that they can inspire such cowardice in the representatives of the people and will resort to such threats leaves little ground for confidence in the loyalty of their leadership, and leaves one wondering if the only remedy does not lie in a universal draft of all manpower with every man detailed to his appointed task at a soldier's regular pay.

And after all, is not that the logical course after the draft policy is instituted?

Can we be fair to the man we've drafted to send to the firing line and not at the same time draft the men needed to keep him supplied with the materials necessary to hold the line?

Can we preserve our own security with any less heroic measures—seeing the length we've gone in error and the dangers in our deplorable plight?

Our mistakes and their consequent quarrels among ourselves and the common danger to us all reminds us of the plot of a Western movie we saw some years ago.

Two cowboys had some trivial disagreement and only by intervention of cool heads among mutual friends could a clash between them be prevented.

To avoid further trouble one saddled his horse and rode leisurely away from the ranch.

The other one, with anger rankling in his breast, slipped away unobserved and speeded after the departing one.

Catching up with him at a lonely spot on the range, nothing else would pacify the irate one save that they fight it out in a duel with their six-shooters.

The terms agreed upon, each turned to take his agreed position.

But before either reached his post, a chorus of Indian warwhoops rang out and their startled glance showed an advancing band of savages, fanning out in an effort to surround them.

Both made a dive for a nearby boulder and reached cover just in time to escape a shower of bullets and arrows.

For some minutes their six-shooters were busy repelling their common danger.

Directly one found his cartridges all gone and appealed to his erstwhile enemy who divided his ammunition and the firing went on as before.

But soon they were down to the last shell and while they waited for the Indians to rush in for the kill they made friends and shook hands in what they thought was good-bye.

But as it turns out always in the stories, the Indians' shouts of victory were answered by the challenging cry of the charging cowboys from the ranch who had followed the two to see what mischief they had done and arrived at the opportune time to chase the enemy away.

If we do not realize our common danger soon and arrive at a willingness to furnish the ammunition as needed the ending for us may not be in the story-book pattern.

Our danger is a common one and the sooner we all recognize it and act accordingly the better for all.

The alacrity with which we agree and act in a common purpose and a concerted effort is our best assurance against our subjugation by the Yellow Race.

It can happen here—if we continue to invite it!

In coming months, ranchmen in the extreme west part of Texas may be asked to grow pilot plantings of guayule, the plant from which rubber may be extracted. Areas in California, New Mexico, and Arizona also are said to be suited to the desert plant.

HONDO, TEXAS, MAY 15, 1942

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

Labor is still in the spotlight here, and the problem of what to do about strikes continues to receive attention. The recent testimony of Admiral Land, Chairman of the Maritime Commission, that "this infernal agitation is going around in everybody's head about whether it should be a closed or open shop, or whether they should join this or that union" made a deep impression on many Congressmen.

Added to this is the fact that strikes in war industries were more serious in March than they were in February, according to figures released by the War Labor Board. An official WLB release listed 73 strikes in March, as compared with 55 the month before. During March strikes involved 35,000 workers and caused a loss of 167,000 man-days. The February figures were 23,000 workers and 119,000 man-days.

In spite of this marked increase, WLB officials say that the general labor situation is good and that no legislation is necessary. Many Congressmen, however, remain unconvinced, and, unless the situation improves, they are apt to become more insistent that something be done to guarantee continuous, no-strike production in war plants.

Observers here are watching the new War Manpower Commission headed by Paul V. McNutt, as it formulates plans for "labor priorities". Although Chairman McNutt says that he hopes the plan can be operated on a voluntary basis, he admits that "circumstances will determine that". Key administration officials, however, indicate that some sort of compulsory assignment of workers will be adopted—probably after the November elections.

According to present plans, 13 million new recruits will be needed in war factories by the end of the year if industry is to continue to beat its promise in the production of munitions. Many of them must come from peace time industries. When they are taken from such industries, an effort will be made to use skills where they are most productive, Mr. McNutt says, but he indicated that there would be no widespread migration of labor from one occupation to another if it can be prevented. The main concern, however, is victory production, and it's a safe bet that other considerations will be subordinated to that. It's recognized here that war industries are generally on schedule and in many cases are ahead of schedule on orders, but they will need a steady supply of new employees to maintain their records.

Industrial slowdowns in war production work are catching the attention of many government officials at the moment. The Army and Navy are pooling efforts with five other government agencies (Maritime Commission, War Production Board, War Labor Board, U. S. Conciliation Service and Bureau of Labor Statistics) to combat the practice.

According to those "in the know", slowdowns fall into two classes. The first is intentional and is engineered by labor as a means of securing concessions from employers. The second is caused by apathy and low morale on the part of the individual worker.

It's pointed out here that industry has already tackled the second with morale-building campaigns in war plants, and officials recognize that such plans are already producing results. What to do about the first cause is another problem, and is tied up with the entire labor picture, especially as it involves labor union cooperation in the war effort.

All Three One Year for Only $2.10

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

RUMMAGING through my desk the other day, I came across some snapshots of friends of mine made back in 1933.

If you don't think time flies... If you don't think this world ever changes... you ought to look at the women's hats and dresses in those pictures taken 9 years ago! Wow!

It gave me quite a start... and then it set me to thinking... and rememberin'! Lots of things sure happened in 1933. A new administration in Washington... the turning point of the depression... and the coming of Repeal.

I remember the re-legalization of beer. It came before Repeal, when Congress amended the old Volstead Act to allow legal sale of "3.2" beer.

What talk and arguments they had in those days! One argument I remember well... was that beer would do a lot to help bring back prosperity. I wondered at the time whether that argument could be proved.

I thought about that again, the other day. I decided to check up and find out.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has paid more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

According to one of the reports I've seen, beer has put more than 15 billion dollars into general business circulation. Goodness me, that's a lot of money.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did do its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people... it's not likely to get you in trouble.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: Mathias del Toro, a non-resident of the State of Texas, GREETING:
You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 43 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 22nd day of June, A. D., 1942, at or before 10 o'clock A. M.
before the Honorable District Court of Medina County, at the Court House in Hondo, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 12th day of Sept. 1941, at 1:30 o'clock P. M.

The file number of said suit being
No. 3729.

The names of the parties in said suit are Maria Teresa Toro as Plaintiff and Mathias del Toro as Defendant.
The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit:

That on or about the 14th day of July, 1941, in Medina County, Texas, plaintiff whose maiden name was Maria Teresa Fernandez, was married to defendant; that at the time plaintiff was married to defendant she was extremely ill, nervous and frightened; that she was operated on the day following the marriage; and that she has never since lived with the defendant, and has the fixed intention of never living with him as his wife. That plaintiff was only slightly acquainted with defendant at the time of the marriage and has never had any love or affection for him. Defendant came to plaintiff's home from his residence in Michigan, displayed a letter which he stated he had received in which plaintiff was supposed to have agreed to marry him, and demanded that plaintiff marry him or see that he would be reimbursed for his trip to Texas; that plaintiff became overcome by fear, and owing to her extreme and serious illness she believed that she would be in trouble unless she complied with the demands of defendant and marry him; that she married the defendant only through fear brought about by the words and attitude of defendant; that said marriage ought to be annulled for the above reasons, but that said marriage still at this time exists; that there is no property and no property rights to adjust, and that there are no children; that their living together as husband and wife is insupportable; Plaintiff prays for judgment annulling said marriage, dissolving said marriage relations and divorcing her from defendant; that the maiden name of Maria Teresa Fernandez be restored to her, etc.

Issued this the 6th day of May, 1942.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Hondo, Texas, this the 6th day of May A. D., 1942. 4tc.

Mrs. Robert Hartung was a visitor at this office Saturday and ordered the home paper sent to her son, Pvt.

present. Harold J., better known as Jack Hartung, is with the 306 Bom-

Word from Miss Lola Ryle is to the effect that she and her brother Boyd, have gone to Roswell, New Mexico, to make their home. He is foreman in a woodmill at the aircraft shop there, and at present she is busy looking for an apartment in which to live. She writes that the country is beautiful and the people have been very nice.

Deputy Frank Matthews enjoyed a visit Monday and Tuesday from his son, Howard Matthews, and wife of Oakland, California, who were in Texas on a 30-day leave. His son, whom he had not seen in nearly five years, is Second Mate, U. S. Marines.
For 19 years he was with the merchant marine, visiting many ports of call but last year he enlisted in the Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Keahey are the parents of a 6-pound baby boy, born Sunday, May 10, pital in San Antonio. The baby has been named Robert Thomas and the news of his son's arrival was cabled to Sgt. Keahey who is in Australia.

nolds went to San Antonio Tuesday to see her first grandchild.

Toby Koch was a business caller at this office Monday. Mr. Koch is one of several farmers dispossessed from their fine, well-improved farms west of town to make room for the airfield. The loss of possession of his property is quite a blow to Mr.
Koch in more ways than one. He had inherited his lands from his father's estate and the improvements that are now swept away were built up over the work of his own hands, chiefly over a long and busy life while he and Mrs. Koch reared their family to be grown and where they had planned to spend the evening of their lives in peaceful tranquility. They are still without definite plans for the future.

D'HANIS P. T. A. HOLDS LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR

The annual meeting of the D'Hanis Parent-Teacher Association was held in the High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 8. The meeting opened with the National Anthem. An interesting handcraft and hobby show put on by the pupils of the school was enjoyed, and a round table discussion of hobbies, conducted by the program chairman, brought out the theme for the month, "Constructive Leisure Time Activities." The climax of the meeting came with the installation of officers, the ceremony being conducted by Mrs. Earl Starnes, President of the Medina call of County Chairman, Jordan T. Lawler, for a gathering of all persons interested in a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Medina County, to be held at the County courthouse in Hondo at 3:30 p. m., Monday, May 18th.

In view of past procedure in Medina County, Mr. Lawler's statement of the purpose—"to discuss ways and means of holding Primaries in July for State, District, County and Precinct offices"—strikes one as carrying the possibility of something more significant than mere formal compliance with the law in matters pertaining to party primaries.

Are party lines to be drawn in county and precinct races?

AUGUST KELLER DEAD

August Keller, aged 81 years, died at his residence at LaCoste, Tuesday, May 12, 1942. Funeral services were held Thursday morning, May 14, at the residence and interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery LaCoste, Rev. John Gerberman officiating.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Mary Keller; daughter, Mrs. Richard Zinsmeyer; son, Alfred Keller; nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

In the death of Mr. Keller the Managing Editor of this paper loses another of his long-time friends. During his last two terms as a rural school teacher, Mr. Keller was one of his trustees at the old Sauz school on the creek some half a mile east of the present building. The two terms extended over the time from September 1899 to April 1901, and during the first term he boarded in the Keller home. He has always carried a grateful feeling in his heart for Mr. and Mrs. Keller's kindness during that time to a homeless and lonesome boy.

The bereaved companion and his children have our sympathy in their loss.

LUCILLE NEWTON RESIGNS

The third teacher to resign in the past two weeks from the Hondo Independent School system was Miss Lucille Newton, teacher in the Latin-American ward school. She left Monday for Austin to receive special training in social welfare work before being assigned a position as a case worker. Mrs. H. V. Standley is the substitute teacher at that school, taking over the duties of Milton Haegelin who resigned last week; Mrs. Tom Bridges, also substituting, was transferred to the primary department in the ward school.

Mr. Haegelin and Mr. M. L. McDowell resigned last week.

A WEEK OF THE WAR

seven million persons were refused War Ration Book No. 1 because they already held more than six pounds of sugar. The OPA also reported persons or businesses needing a typewriter may rent a used machine or a new portable directly from any dealer. War Production Chairman Nelson said emergency coal rationing is probable unless consumers immediately build up their reserve supplies to "the limit of storage capacity."

Production and Conversion

The War Department said the Chicago Ordnance District is about to produce more tanks and tractors monthly than it produced in the entire World War 1 period. The Maritime Commission reported U. S. shipyards delivered 36 merchant vessels in April. Fifty-one vessels, double the January number, were launched during the month. The WPB established a Services Branch to clear priority and other problems confronting about 3 million service institutions such as banks, laundries etc. The Commerce Department said income payments to individuals during March were 21 percent higher than a year ago and reached the record annual rate of $106 billion.

The War Front

The War Department announced the planes which recently raided Japan were U. S. bombers. The attack was made in clear weather, in the middle of the day, and at low altitudes. The selected targets "were accurately attacked with demolition and incendiary bombs," the Department said. Japanese broadcasts admitted that between 3,000 and 4,000 casualties and fires which raged for 48 hours were caused by the raid, the Department said.

The Navy Department said 21 Japanese warships were sunk or damaged in the battle of the Coral Sea with relatively slight losses to U. S. forces. U. S. losses will be reported when the information is without value to the enemy, the Navy said, but all Tokyo claims of damages inflicted were declared without foundation. The Navy reported 85 Japanese warships and 96 noncombatant vessels had been sunk or damaged from Pearl Harbor to May 11. Resistance of U. S. and Filipino troops on Corregidor was finally overcome. The Navy reported the torpedoing of 10 more merchant vessels off the Atlantic Coast.

Army and Selective Service

First regulations were issued for the Army Specialist Corps which was set up to make available to the Army specially skilled persons not otherwise eligible for active duty. Officers and Specialists will make up the Corps. Officers' pay will range from $2,600 for Second Lieutenants to $9,600 for the Director General, and Specialists' pay will range from $1,800 to $3,500. The Department said construction has been started on flight strips adjoining highways in a strategic area on the Atlantic Seaboard. The War Department said it cannot answer individual inquiries as to Army casualties or the whereabouts of Army personnel.

Selective Service Headquarters said occupational questionnaires to determine civilian skills will be mailed not later than May 27 to men of the first and second registration who are not already in the armed forces. SS Director Hershey instructed local boards to give careful consideration for deferment to individual registrants engaged in 141 critical occupations in the coal and railroad industries, as well as in ship construction and in coastal, intercoastal and offshore water transportation. SE Headquarters said a reexamination of approximately 100,000 men disqualified because of heart disorders is now advisable, because functional derangement in many cases was caused by temporary factors.

Navy

Navy Secretary Knox reported Navy personnel now totals 500,000 compared with 140,000 in the Summer of 1940. He said the Navy will include one million men by July 1943. The Senate sent to the White House a bill authorizing an increase of 200,000 tons in the U. S. Submarine Fleet. The Navy said two new aviation technical schools will be constructed—at Memphis, Tenn., and Norman, Okla.—to train 10,000 men every six months. The training center for negro enlisted men will be at the Naval Training Center Great Lakes, Illinois.

The OGD ordered a "dimout" of the California Coast from the Oregon border to Santa Maria, Calif. for the duration of the war, in order to keep the coastline clear of any lights that could be seen by lurking submarines. The order affects 48 cities and towns in nine counties. Street lights must be painted or shielded, display illumination must be shielded or eliminated, and traffic must be rerouted or required to move at reduced speeds with parking lights only. The order was requested by the 12th Naval District and will be enforced by the 9th Regional OGD office.

Prices and Consumer Credit

OPA said it will not tolerate wholesale evictions of war workers by landlords attempting to evade maximum rent regulations by bringing in new tenants at higher rents. Beginning May 18, retail prices may not exceed highest levels charged by each seller during March and every retail store must display publicly the ceiling prices for "cost-of-living commodities."

The Federal Reserve Board ruled installment purchases must be liquidated within 12 months and placed new limitations on charge accounts. Loans of $1,500 or less to be met in one payment must mature within 90 days. The Board also made down payments, ranging from one-fifth to one-third the purchase price, mandatory on all products.

tory on all products.

War Bonds and Taxes

The Treasury reported War Bond sales during the first six business days of May were 21 percent greater than in the same period in April and totaled more than 25 percent of the Nation's May quota of $600 million. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, in a letter to Congress, said the time has come to lower personal exemptions under the individual income tax to $600 for single persons, $1,200 for married couples, and $300 for each dependent.

Civilian Supply

The WPB prohibited use of copper, bronze or brass after May 31 in manufacture of about 100 household and common civilian items. Use of iron and steel in more than 400 such items was prohibited after July 3. The orders include such products as waste baskets, fountain pens, flashlights, electric razors, cash registers and baking pans. Designs of glass containers were restricted to existing mold equipment. The Board said this standardization would increase production of such containers by 30 percent and help meet a possible tin can shortage. Grinding of cocoa beans during the rest of May and June was restricted to 70 percent of the amounts ground in the corresponding period last year.

SCRAP IRON NEEDED.

Mr. Thos. L. Mullican, representative of the War Production Board in Texas, has advised that this state has more automobile graveyards than any other state in the union.

Shipping of scrap to the mills has been retarded by high freight rates, but these have been reduced by 12 1/2-20% on automobile body steel and iron, and further reductions in rate will be attempted in an effort to get this much needed material to the mills. At present, nineteen steel furnaces are closed due to the acute shortage of scrap. In view of this material, Mr. Donald M. Nelson, Chief of the War Production Board, has announced that the winning or losing of this war may depend on our ability to move our scrap to the mills.

A program within the state is being inaugurated for this purpose, and a limited time will be set for moving the entire contents of automobile graveyards to a mill, after which time they may be requisitioned by the Government.

This program does not require the collection of salable parts, and the owners may salvage such parts for future sale or use.

CASTROVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1942

FEDERATION MEETING HELD AT HELOTES.

Sunday, May 3, 1942, the Castroville Luther League attended the District San Antonio Federation of Luther Leagues at Helotes. Benches and chairs were arranged beneath the trees near the church. The business meeting was to take place there. After the rain came we were asked to move into the church and continue the meeting there.

The President of the Helotes League, Augusta Bippert, bid everyone a hearty welcome. The Secretary of the Federation, Elvira Schweers, called the roll and the attendance of each Luther League was given. Castroville had an attendance of seven members and one visitor.

Everyone enjoyed hearing Rev. George Schardt, from Kelly Field, talk. Rev. Schardt is chaplain at Kelly Field, and his talk was very interesting. He spoke of the work as a chaplain, and he likes his work very much with the soldier boys. The President of the Helotes League was responsible for his talk. He closed the meeting with a prayer.

After the meeting everyone went into the Parish and enjoyed the lunch that was served. At 6:30 p. m. all the Leagues assembled in the church again and enjoyed hearing the evening services conducted by Paul Geiger.

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF CASTROVILLE AND VICINITY

In the future, when there is danger of an air raid or a blackout is necessary for any reason, the following procedure will obtain. Hugo Boarquin at the Haass Cafe has been appointed interpreter. He will be informed by telephone. When he is off duty, he will delegate this authority to someone else, so that his phone will be available to call for 14 hours of the day and night. Upon receiving the call, he or his agent will immediately call the local telephone operator. She will ring five short blasts on the fire siren. As soon as possible thereafter, the bells of both the Catholic and Lutheran churches will be rung. Everyone should immediately blacken every light on their premises and see that their neighbors do as well. The safety of one is the safety of all. There may be trial blackouts on short notice. They will be under the supervision of the Department of Public Safety. Inspections will follow. We should have a 100% blackout within fifteen minutes after the five short blasts of the siren. The cooperation of everyone is earnestly requested.
